WHY CHOOSE THE ADENA FAMILY MEDICINE RESIDENCY CLINIC?

The Adena Residency Clinic provides a full spectrum of primary care to patients of all ages. Our clinic is staffed by licensed doctors, called medical residents, who are supervised by attending physicians with decades of experience.

Both a resident and an attending physician will see you, offering you a second opinion and twice the level of care in one visit. Typically, family medicine residents practice with the Residency Clinic for three years. Attending physicians who oversee residents are with the clinic for much longer, offering you consistent care throughout the years.

We accept Medicaid and most forms of insurance and offer financial assistance through Adena Regional Medical Center for patients without health insurance.

YES! WE TREAT BABIES, KIDS, AND TEENS, TOO!

At the Residency Clinic, our doctors are experienced in treating kids of all ages, from infants to teenagers. Whether your little one – or not so little one – is coping with a skin condition, an earache, the flu, asthma, a schoolyard mishap or just growing pains, we’re here to help. We also offer referrals to specialists as needed.
